STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

According to Muslim Law the decree of Kazi duly appointed by the state is necessary for certain socio-religious and religious matters such as dissolution of marriages. In addition to these the Kazi is to preside and perform certain ceremonies such as the marriage ceremony and is to conduct the Juma and Ead prayers. After the settlement of Mohammadans in India, Kazis were appointed by the State for the cities, principal towns and in the purganahs for performing all the duties allotted to them by the Muslim Law. On the inception of the British Rule their status was recognised by the British Government also. Regulation XXXIX of 1793 was the first one in this connection. It was intended to provide for the recognition and appointment of Kazis and Kazi-ul-Kuzzat. The preamble of that Regulation says:—

> "Cauzis are stationed at cities of Patna, Dacca and Morshidabad, and the principal towns and the purganahs for the purpose of preparing and attesting the deeds of transfer and other law papers, celebrating marriages and performing such religious duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mohammadan Law, as hitherto have been discharged by them under the British Government and also for superintending the sale of the distrained properties and paying charitable and other pensions and allowances under Regulations XVII and XXIV of 1793. The nature of the above mentioned duties renders it necessary that persons of character and duly qualified with respect to legal knowledge, should be appointed to these offices, and encourage them to discharge their trusts with diligence and fidelity, they should not be liable to removal, unless proved to be incapable or guilty of misconduct to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council. The following rules have been accordingly enacted."

With the gradual increase of the territory of the East India Company, similar Regulations and Acts were passed for other provinces also. In addition to the Kazis, however, there used to be Hindu and Mohammadan Law Officers attached to the courts to help those courts in the administration of Hindu and Mohammadan Law respectively —the courts at the time having had no training in those branches of law. This had become necessary as the East India Company was gradually transferring the administration of justice from the hands of Indians to those of the English Judges—and was thus necessarily a transitory stage. It appears that in 1864 Hindu and Mohammadan Law Officers were deemed to have served their purpose in having given the necessary training to the English Judges and having produced sufficient quantity of legal precedent to guide future courts. They were no more required and were thus removed by Act XI of 1864. But along with the Hindu and Mohammadan Law Officers, the Regulations and Acts relating to Kazis were also repealed, though as a matter of fact, they neither imposed any such burden on the State nor were they in any sense matters of transitory nature. The Honourable Mr. A. A. Roberts in seeking for leave to introduce the Bill which ultimately became Act XI of 1864, first narrated the reasons which led to the abolition of the posts of Hindu and Mohammadan Law Officers. Then coming to Kazi-ul-Kuzzat and Kazi he said:—

> "It was further proposed by the Bill to dissever connection of the Government with the office of Kazi-ul-Kuzzat, or the chief Kazi of a province, and also with offices of city, town and purganahs Kazis. These offices did not rest upon, nor were they created by any legislative enactment of the British rule. They were an institution of Mohammadan Government and Mohammadan Society. We found Kazis in every city, town and purganahs, and all our earlier legislators sought to do, was to define generally what the duties of Kazis were and to provide that persons of character and duly qualified with respect of knowledge should be appointed to those offices."

Then he recounted how gradually the functions of preparing and attesting deeds of transfer and law papers, and of Notary Public were gradually superseded by regular departments, though the Kazis continued to attest deeds—which were yet then recognized by the courts. He also pointed out that the duties of distraining the properties had also been gradually transferred from the hands of the Kazis and pensions and charities were no longer distributed by them. About the burden that the state had to bear in respect of the salaries of the Kazis he observed:—

> "A few Kazis might have received small salaries and there were believed to be few endowments in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, but the majority of the Kazis had been remunerated for any services they might have performed for the State by Khilats or annual presents in the shape of money or shawls which were generally bestowed on the Bengal side on the Id festival. For their services as Public Notaries or for their attendance at marriages, etc., they were remunerated by persons who employed them."

In the end he described the effect of his proposal after the passing of that Act in the following words:—

> "Whether those who had heretofore been appointed by Government or those who had established themselves as Kazis to the satisfaction of the community to which they belonged, would be free to discharge such duties as had heretofore been performed by them and were prescribed by the Mohammadan Law. All that it was proposed to do was to repeal the existing laws on our Statute Book regarding the office of the Kazis and to declare that the Government would not heretofore make any fresh appointment to that office."

For this purpose a saving clause was introduced in the Act. It said:—

> "Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed so as to prevent a Kazi-ul-Kuzzat or other Kazi from performing, when required to do so, any duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mohammadan Law."

At the time when this Bill was introduced in the Council His Late Highness Nawab Yusuf Ali Khan, the then Nawab of Rampur, the only Muslim member of Council—he was probably nominated for this Bill as he took oath that very day—opposed the provision relating to the abolition of the post of Kazi, but the Bill was passed. The result of this change was just contrary to what was hoped by the mover, who expected that Kazi would continue to function in the Muslim community in spite of the withdrawal by the Government of their approval to his appointment. This happened as the Muslim Law requires the Kazi to be appointed by the State and as subsequent to the passing of this Act of 1864, it was held by both Bombay and Madras High Courts that the appointment of a Kazi cannot be made except by the State. Thus the absence of a validly appointed Kazi cause great hardship to the Muslim community. This matter was again and again brought to the notice of the Government. Ultimately the Late Sir Ahmad Khan brought a Bill in the Legislative Council in 1880, which was passed as Act No. XII of 1880 and was named Kazis Act. That Act authorized the Local Government to appoint Kazis for any particular area on the desire of the Muslim community living in that area, but gave him absolutely no powers. Section 4 of the Act took away whatever sanctity could be attached to the appointment by the Government. It ran as follows:—

> "Nothing herein contained, and no appointment made hereunder, shall be deemed:—
> (a) to confer any judicial or administrative power on any Kazi or Naib Kazi appointed hereunder; or
> (b) to render the presence of Kazi or Naib Kazi necessary at the celebration of any marriage or the performance of any rite or ceremony; or
> (c) to prevent any person discharging any of the functions of a Kazi."

The appointment of a Kazi proved to be of no effect. How can a Kazi who was to have as his competitor any person who chose to work as such possibly be expected to keep a complete record of marriages of the town or purganah in which he was working. He could be of no use for purposes of effecting dissolution of marriages as he had no judicial powers. The defect in the Bill was so apparent that when the Bill came up for consideration before the Council even His Excellency Lord Ripon, the then Viceroy, was struck with this strange feature of the Bill and he is reported to have observed:—

> it was stated in clause (a), sub-section 4 of the Bill, that it was not to confer any judicial or other powers on any Kazi or Naib Kazi appointed thereunder. He thought it rather singular to enact that a man who was appointed should have no kind of power whatever."

The remarks of His Excellency were pertinent, and as the future proved this novel experiment in the Legislative field came to nothing. In supporting the Bill which was at that time supposed to have some value and to be effective in solving the difficulties of the Muslim community to a certain extent the Honourable Mr. Gibbs from Bombay is reported to have said:—

> "that he might mention with regard to this Bill that the inconvenience of not having Kazis had been experienced on the Bombay side. In former years, before the Act No. XII of 1864 had been passed, there were Government Kazis appointed in all the principal places in Bombay and they were often of great use in settling small disputes which might otherwise have troubled the magistrates or courts. He had never been able to make out why, in that Act, there was a clean sweep made of all Kazis in the country, but it had done harm in leaving the Mohammadans without any sort of head to whom they might refer their little domestic difficulties and this want had been much felt, and had led often to their taking the law in their own hands, and committing breaches of it. He was therefore glad to see that the present Bill had been brought in."

But the inherent defect of the Act deprived the Muslim community of the benefit which it was intended to confer, and nothing came out of it, and it is only a dead letter to-day.

Thus it is only to meet a well recognized and old standing need of the Muslim community that this Bill is being introduced. Its scope is very restricted as it gives much smaller powers to the Kazi than the functions that were allotted to him under the Muslim Law or were even recognized by the earlier British Legislature. It deals chiefly with the registration of marriage, which is effected by the Kazis and for the disposal of suits relating to marriage, divorce and dissolution of marriages for which a tribunal consisting of a Kazi, an Alim and a Vakil has been proposed. As the Muslim personal law in this matter is very strict, provisions of appeals to the District Judge and the High Court have been effected in the form of opinion from those courts. While this would not very much alter the procedure in British Indian Courts, it would meet the requirements of Muslim Law, and it is expected that the long-felt want of the Muslim community would be met by this Bill.

J. C. MUKERJEA,

Chief Executive Officer.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 24th May 1941.

Final Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1940-41.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1938-39, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1938-39, averaged (a) 44·4 and (b) 8·4, respectively.)

Character of the season.—As reported in the third forecast issued in April last continued drought adversely affected the growth of the crop and in consequence further reduced the outturn for the province.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates, the total area sown is 169,100 acres as against 177,100 acres last year.

Outturn.—The provincial outturn on the basis of District Officers' estimates works out at 57 per cent. of the normal as against 73 per cent. last year. Taking the normal yield to be 9 3/5ths maunds per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province is estimated at 34,000 tons this year as against 45,600 tons last year.

At the end of April, the wholesale prices of wheat and common rice in Calcutta mart were Rs. 3-15 and Rs. 5-13 respectively per maund or about 9 per cent. lower and 16 per cent. higher than the price ruling at the corresponding period last year.

Provided that persons carrying on such business at the commencement of this Act shall be allowed two months from such commencement to obtain such licence.

5. Every retail dealer shall in respect of his business at each place where he carries on business—

(a) keep books of account in the prescribed form; and

(b) submit every month to such authority as may be prescribed a correct return in the prescribed form and by the prescribed date showing—

7. (1) If no return is submitted by a retail dealer under clause (b) of section 5 in respect of any month by the prescribed date in that behalf, or if the return is submitted without a receipt showing payment of the full amount of the tax due as required by section 6 or if the return submitted appears to the authority referred to in clause (b) of section 5 to be incorrect or incomplete, such authority shall, after making such inquiry, if any, as it considers necessary, determine the amount of the tax due from such retail dealer in respect of such month and the amounts so determined less the sum, if any, already paid by him shall be paid by the retail dealer into a Government treasury or the Reserve Bank of India within fourteen days after demand is made therefor:

Provided that before the prescribed authority determines under this sub-section the amount of the tax due, the retail dealer shall be given a reasonable opportunity of proving the correctness and completeness of the return, if any, submitted by him, and for this purpose he shall be allowed a period of not less than seven days.

(2) If the amount of the tax due is not paid within the period mentioned in sub-section (1), the authority referred to in clause (b) of section 5 may direct that the retail dealer shall pay in addition to the amount of the tax so unpaid a sum not exceeding that amount by way of penalty.

Refunds.

8. The authority referred to in clause (b) of section 5 shall, in the prescribed manner, refund to a retail dealer applying in this behalf any amount of tax paid by such dealer in excess of the amount due from him under this Act, either by cash payment or, at the option of the dealer, by deduction of such excess from the amount of tax due in respect of any subsequent return.
